There are still some National Mustang Day window clings for sale. They are $1 each. See Marina after the meetings. Available until gone.

Spring Cruise: June 2 & 3. There was a lack of hotels near Dayton on the original date we chose in May so Sonny had to change the dates. Jean has booked a hotel for this and Sonny has already sent out an e-mail with the hotel information. When you call you must mention you are with the NEOMC. He is still planning on going to the AF Museum on June 2 and the Dale Halderman Museum on June 3.

If you plan on going let Sonny know so he can make arrangements for a meeting place to cruise in together.

14th Annual Nate Deyarmin Memorial Benefit Poker Run & Car Show: Sunday, June 10th. The club has supported this benefit for a long time! It is held in honor of Marine LCpl Nate Deyarmin who was killed in action in Iraq in 2005. The funds raised are used to help the disabled and disadvantaged American Veterans. The members are asked to bring a side dish to share with everyone. There will be a sign up sheet for food and a head count at the meetings. You can also email Sonny with what you plan on bringing and how many are coming in your family. There is usually a Corn Hole tournament and a DJ. Last year about 90 people attended. Bring lawn chairs. There is not a monthly meeting in July.

Gervasi Cruise-In: We will be the featured car club at their weekly Wednesday cruise-ins on August 22nd. We will be parked along the brick walkway leading to the Pavilion. Last year we had dinner at the Crush House. As the day gets closer, Sonny will see how many will be attending and he will try to make a reservation in advance so we won't have to stand in line again.

9th Annual All Mustang Car Show: September 9th at Montrose Ford. As usual he is looking for items for raffle baskets. You may also make your own basket to donate to the raffle. MUSTANG CRUISE—CARNIVAL CRUISE LINES

Karen Kropp 330.265.5975 shelbygirlx59@gmail.com

Cruise information and group rates:

This what I found out when I called Carnival.

A minimum of 8 cabins are needed to book at a group rate. I will have a meeting sometime in May with anyone that is interested. At the meeting we will look at different itineraries, dates and ships and perhaps decide on a cruise at that time. Once we have at least 8 cabins to book and a cruise picked out I will call Carnival and put a deposit on one cabin which will allow me to hold as many others as I need. I will then get a booking number.

You will then use that booking number to hold a "space". You will need to call Carnival directly to hold your space for a cabin, which will require a deposit. Or if you are ready you can go ahead and book at that time.

You cannot book online and then have it transferred to the group booking, it must be done by phone with the group number. You can use any online discount Carnival offers except the Casino offer. I was told the group rates are usually lower than what is seen online. I would suggest you research what cabin you would like and what the cost is before calling.

If you are not familiar with cruising costs I have come up with price ranges for you. Keep in mind the lower deck cabins are less expensive than the upper decks and balconies. The price for that time of year ranges from $550 per person for a basic cabin to $1200 per person for a balcony. That includes the taxes and port charges. That does not include airfare, pre-cruise hotel, shore excursions, gratuities, upgrades or incidentals. This is based on Carnival's website and as I said earlier it should be less expensive with the group rate but I have no idea how much that is until we start booking.

Steve and I prefer to go to the Southern Caribbean in the winter as you are not as likely to have cooler weather than as the Eastern Caribbean, but hey it is still warmer than OHIO. We also prefer to fly-in the day prior to allow for a winter weather airline disaster. But we will discuss all that at the meeting.

So far I have 5 other couples definitely interested. Which means so far I have 6 of the 8 necessary as long as no one changes their mind. If you want to go and are by yourself, perhaps we can buddy you up with another single who wants to go.

This cruise will go on even if we don't have 8 cabins, we will just book separately and not by group. I hope you decide to join in the fun! If you are not able to decide until it is closer to January then you can still book right up until sailing time as long as cabins are available. If you have any questions call or text me. You can also go to <https://www.carnival.com/> and do some research.

Thanks! I will let you know when I have a meeting date.
